Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3

You have an Exchange Server organization that contains five servers.

Users who have their mailbox on a server named EX1 report that they fail to receive email messages.

You verify that the email messages sent to the mailboxes on EX1 are delivered successfully to the server.

You also verify that all of the mailbox databases on EX1 are mounted.

You discover that the hard disk drive on EX1 has only 10 GB of free space.

You delete 20 GB of unnecessary data on EX1.

Users report that now they are receiving all of their email messages successfully to their mailbox.

You need to ensure that EX1 will prevent the delivery of email messages to mailboxes only if less than 2 GB of hard disk space is available.

NEW QUESTION: 4

Refer to the exhibit. The exhibit shows the output of the `Get-MailboxDatabase` cmdlet. The output shows that the mailbox database is not mounted. You need to ensure that the mailbox database is mounted. What should you do?

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: No

Azure firewall does not encrypt network traffic. It is used to block or allow traffic based on source/destination IP address, source/destination ports and protocol.

Box 2: No

A network security group does not encrypt network traffic. It works in a similar way to a firewall in that it is used to block or allow traffic based on source/destination IP address, source/destination ports and protocol.

Box 3: No

The question is rather vague as it would depend on the configuration of the host on the Internet. Windows Server does come with a VPN client and it also supports other encryption methods such IPsec encryption or SSL/TLS so it could encrypt the traffic if the Internet host was configured to require or accept the encryption.

However, the VM could not encrypt the traffic to an Internet host that is not configured to require the encryption.
