NEW QUESTION: 2

Your client defined an organization report structure assigning category codes to business units for online consolidations.

They have run the Organization Structure Build program in proof mode and the report displays the business units that are dynamically created as a concatenation of category codes. Your client is concerned because they have the processing options set to dynamically create business units using next numbering. After troubleshooting the problem, what message will you relay to your client?

- A. In proof mode, any business units that are dynamically created appear on the report as a concatenation of category codes, regardless of the setting of the BU Creation processing options.
- B. The check box for concatenating category codes for new business units was flagged on in the Organization Structure Definition program (P0050B) for the structure defined by the client. This setting is overriding the processing option in the Organization Structure Build program.
- C. The Sequence fields that define where child business units appear under the parent were left blank when the organization structure was defined. These fields must be defined for the Organization Structure Build program to function as designed.
- D. The Pseudo Consolidation Company processing option in the Organization Structure Build program was left blank. This processing option points the system to the correct next number by company sequence.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Since the Web server needs to talk to the database server on port 3306 that means that the database server should allow incoming traffic on port 3306. The below table from the aws documentation shows how the security groups should be set up.

Option B is invalid because you need to allow incoming access for the database server from the WebSecGrp security group. Options C and D are invalid because you need to allow Outbound traffic and not inbound traffic For more information on security groups please visit the below Link:

<http://docs.aws.amazon.com/AmazonVPC/latest/UserGuide/VPCScenario2.html> The correct answer is: Allow Inbound on port 3306 for Source Web Server Security Group WebSecGrp. Submit your Feedback/Queries to our Experts
