NEW QUESTION: 1

Answer:
Explanation:

Explanation

Box 1: Yes
tempdb on local storage. FCIs now support placement of tempdb on local non-shared storage, such as a local solid-state-drive, potentially offloading a significant amount of I/O from a shared SAN.
Prior to SQL Server 2012, FCIs required tempdb to be located on a symmetrical shared storage volume that failed over with other system databases.
Box 2: No
The VNN is set on the group level, not on the instance level.
Database client applications can connect directly to a SQL Server instance network name, or they may connect to a virtual network name (VNN) that is bound to an availability group listener. The VNN abstracts the WSFC cluster and availability group topology, logically redirecting connection requests to the appropriate SQL Server instance and database replica.

The logical topology of a representative AlwaysOn solution is illustrated in this diagram:

NEW QUESTION: 2
You maintain multiple SQL Server 2008 instances.
You are designing a consolidated repository of performance data.
You need to ensure that the following requirements are met:

The data collector is used to gather performance information.
A single database stores performance information for all instances.
Performance information that is older than 14 days is deleted.
Administrative effort to manage performance data is minimized.
What should you do?
A. Create a SQL Agent job process on each instance to store and delete performance data in a single database for all instances.
B. Configure a management data warehouse process on each instance to store and delete performance data in a single database for all instances.
C. Configure an automated server-side trace process on each instance to store and delete performance data in a single database for all instances.
D. Create and schedule a single Microsoft SQL Service Integration Services (SSIS) package process to store and delete performance data in a single database for all instances.
Answer: B
