NEW QUESTION: 1

A security engineer, Joe, has been asked to create a secure connection between his mail server and the mail server of a business partner. Which of the following protocol would be MOST appropriate?

- A. FTP
- B. HTTPS
- C. SSH

D. TLS

Answer: D

Explanation:

Transport Layer Security (TLS) is a cryptographic protocol designed to provide communications security over a computer network. It uses X.509 certificates and hence asymmetric cryptography to authenticate the counterparty with whom it is communicating, and to exchange a symmetric key. The TLS protocol allows client-server applications to communicate across a network in a way designed to prevent eavesdropping and tampering.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Because of its importance to the business, an organization wants to quickly implement a technical solution which deviates from the company's policies. An information security manager should:

- A. recommend against implementation because it violates the company's policies.
- B. recommend a risk assessment and implementation only if the residual risks are accepted.
- C. recommend revision of current policy.
- D. conduct a risk assessment and allow or disallow based on the outcome.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

Whenever the company's policies cannot be followed, a risk assessment should be conducted to clarify the risks. It is then up to management to accept the risks or to mitigate them. Management determines the level of risk they are willing to take. Recommending revision of current policy should not be triggered by a single request.
