A.

content as "color="white". If the user tries to read the value 1 minute after it was uploaded, what will S3 return?

A. It will return "color=white"

B. It may return either "color=red" or "color=white" i.e. any of the value

C. It will return an error saying that the object was not found

D. It will return "color=red"

Answer: B

Explanation:

AWS S3 follows the eventual consistent model in the US Standard Region. Once the object is updated it may return the new value or the old value based on whether all the content is replicated across multiple servers until it becomes consistent (eventual).
